WASHINGTON, April 25.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Woodlord in the chair, on the The amendment pending yesterday, appropriating $1,000,000 to pay the judgment of the Court of Claims, was agreed to without discussion. THE HORSE APPROPRIATION.

Mr. Nesmith moved to strike out from the paragraph relating to the debt of Mr. Justin, being $1,400 for the care and subsistence of horses, and $600 for repairs to carriages and harness. He spoke of the Attorney General's $1,600 landaulett, and remarked that lawyers of his and the At-midst of—a general reaction from what remarked that lawyers of his and the Attorney General's calibre in his State rode on the outside of a $50 mule. [Laughter,] government by the people and for the effect that if you put a because of the state rode people, the equal brotheshows a state of the people and so the people, the equal brotheshows a state of the people and so the people, the equal brotheshows a state of the people and so the people back he will ride to the Devil. Mr. Negley objected to the comparison of the government officers to beggars on horseback.

Mr. Nesmith—I simply referred to the mule: [Laughter.]
Chairman—Gentlemen from Oregon, continue being careful to keep in order. Mr. Nesmith—I was only quoting the Spanish proverb which says, "Put a beggar on horseback and he will ride to the devil." I have no objection to the termination of the survey in that particular direction, but I don't want the people to pay for transportation. [Laughter.] Mr. Durham said that as the sub comnittee of the Committee on Contingent Expenses in the Department of Justice he had investigated the subject, and would be prepared in a day or two to make a report of the extravagances of that Depart-ment. But he now desired the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations to state how many horses were provided for n this fourteen hundred dollar item. Mr. Garfield replied that the bill said nothing about the number of horses. He upposed it meant as many as could be ovided for with that amount. Mr. Durham reported the question in a omewhat different form, and said he would frankly and candidly answer.

Mr. Garfield replied that the Committee on Appropriations had required from the Attorney General a full detailed statement of his contingent expenses for the past year, and instead of appropriating the sum in a lump, as has been previously done, the Committee had now re-ported the appropriations in close detail. Mr. Durham—I still put the question to he gentleman as he has itemized this matter, how many horses this item is for? Mr. Garfield-If the gentleman, as subcommittee, has made a careful investigaion, he can answer the question as wel Mr. Durham-There were three horses ept in the past year. I want to know w many there are to be for 1875. mr. Durham—How much have you rovided for.

Mr. Garfield—I am utterly incapable of arnishing brains to understand my state-ment. We have a limited amount to be used for the keeping of horses and repair of carriages. If the gentleman thinks that amount is too large, let him move to

to by a vote of 85 to 69.

G. F. Hoar moved an amendment providing that no civil officer of the govern-

This reduction is generally attributed to the effects of the panic and the unsettled state of the currency While many in consequence cannot af ford the luxury of an ocean trip, others who could well bear the expense have deemed it inexpedient to leave their business. In this situation many heads of amilies have kept at home their dependents. Some influence, it is said, has also probably been exerted by the fact that there are no unusual attractions in Europe this year, and by the dread of the ocean perils, inspired by the late disasters. The outward freights this season are generally abundant, and at the same time show au excess over last year.
